

Latest update on July 10 Flight Safety meeting with FAA from Brad Sapp:

Hello All,

Our plans for the Halibut Cove flight safety meeting have been accomplished! Myself and two colleagues will be coming to Halibut cove via water taxi departing Homer at 3:00pm on July 10th. Our travels will put us in Halibut Cove at 3:30 ish giving us a little time to get the "lay of the land and sea". The meeting will begin shortly after 4:00 pm and all interested parties are invited to attend. I am hoping that we will be able to wrap the meeting up by 6:00 pm. We haven't yet settled on a place for the meeting so I am deferring that arrangement to the community of Halibut Cove. If anyone would like to make suggestions for a meeting location please do so. I will be happy to meet wherever it can be arranged.

I think that we should open the agenda with hearing the concerns of all parties and then entertain possible solutions and suggestions. My colleagues and I will offer our guidance and help steer the community toward mutually satisfying conclusions. Bring an open mind and a willingness to cooperate and I believe that we can help restore safety and peace of mind. Spread the word because maximum participation will ensure that all will be heard.

Thank you and see ya soon!
